

Environmental Policy

J.A. K. Workwear Produces, wholesales and retails primarily workwear and safety footwear and we are well aware of the environmental impacts caused by our operations and during the production of our products.

J.A.K. Workwear is committed to reduce the environmental impacts related to our products and our operations. To achieve this, we are committed to:

Be an environmentally responsible company in the community where we operate, and correct any negative environmental impacts caused by our operations.

Conserve natural resources

Adopt pollution prevention practices.

Improve operations, procedures and when available technologies to optimise resources, transport, minimize waste, risks and other pollution.

Give preference to renewable over non-renewable energy when feasible.

Participate in efforts to improve environmental protection and understanding.

Meet all relevant legal requirements

Ensure that our business partners comply with our environmental requirements and work continuously to improve their environmental performance.
